Cyberdope: A Glimpse into the Future

Cyberdope is a company with multifaceted intellectual property. "Cyberdope Saga" is our story, "Outrider" represents our metaverse, and we envision over nine distinct products and services that align with our core ethos. So, what exactly is our ethos? It's simple: we aim to expand the narrative of our story and cultivate a metaverse, equipped with tools and programs designed to assist individuals in various capacities. Dive deeper to understand our roadmap.

Our NFT release is strategically spread over the next 18 months. We've marked September 11th, 2023, for the launch of "Wombats", and Episode 1 titled "Earthers" is set to mint on Cyber Monday 2023. Whitelisting for EP1 has already commenced! The timeline for each episode release is largely market-driven. Rapid sell-outs will expedite subsequent releases. However, the "Saga" will unfold bi-weekly until its culmination. Once the entire saga is out, we will unleash the full potential of our intellectual property, diving into gaming, videos, wall art, scavenger hunts, and a plethora of other ventures. Our ambition knows no bounds, and it all begins with the "Outrider" beta and Cyberdope's story intertwined with NFTs.

Saga: We've crafted a fictional narrative grounded in real-world elements. Our characters are lifelike, and the plot could possibly be a glimpse into a future scenario. The saga immerses you in a journey with five characters hailing from diverse global locales. Their paths converge in "Outrider," the Cyberdope metaverse, where the real excitement brews. Access to the saga is exclusive, granted only through the purchase of an episode, unlocking a doorway to the story room for the entire saga. New chapters will be released bi-weekly for our episode holders.

Founding Fathers: Within the realms of the Cyberdope story lies an elite club. The first 50,000 purchasers of Episodes 1-5 will be conferred with the "Founding Father" status and all its ensuing privileges. The concept of a "living utility" underpins this, ensuring perpetual enhancement and evolution. This NFT also provides access to "Outrider", akin to the wombats.

Gaming: Directly derived from "Cyberdope Saga", all games under the Cyberdope banner will transition from fiction to reality. These will be made available to our Founding Fathers for beta testing in 2027. The saga offers insights into the games on the horizon. In tandem with our gaming endeavors, a digital casino will take shape in "Outrider", complete with card game hosting bunkers, slot machines, keno, and a sports betting arena.

Outrider: Launched on September 11th, 2023, "Outrider" is currently in its beta phase. Entry is exclusive, restricted to holders of a free wombat NFT or an Episode 1-5 NFT. Built on the Ethereum blockchain, we envision a fully decentralized future for "Outrider". For now, it promises spam-free communication. Trolls will think twice, as entry requires a wallet, thus attaching accountability. The full-fledged "Outrider" is slated for a 2024 release, offering influencers a novel platform to establish their presence. Users can tailor their page with a suite of tools, ranging from music to streaming. Influencers will have the autonomy to link other social media platforms, ensuring they regain control over their content and data.
